MURDER CASE EVIDENCE FINISHED.

Accused on Stand Declares Shooting was Accidental while Several were Around Him—Was Afraid of Barbuto—Put Hand in Pocket to Scare Him—Verdict Expected Today.

At the opening of the criminal superior court, at nine o'clock Friday morning the murder trial was resumed and Antonio Grippo was recalled and his cross examination continued. On redirect examination he said that he did not tell him while in the yard that he had five days' pay coming to him and asked him if he preferred cash or a check. He told him he did not want the money and that he would have to stay until the police arrived. He had some trouble in getting the revolver from Diadato, who made somewhat of an effort to get away.

Rocco Grippo Saw the Affair.
As the next witness, Rocco Grippo, brother of the former witness, testified that he was working for his brother in the saloon on the day and night of the affair. Diadato came in at about 10 o'clock and he saw Barbuto in front of the saloon that night not did he hear anyone say anything about money. Barbuto came in just before the shooting, saying hello to the witness and talking with Barbuto. Little attention was paid by the witness to what he said. He saw the flash of the pistol and his brother was holding Diadato at the time. Barbuto was heard to cry "my wife and poor children! I am dead!" Diadato moved away and in to the yard where Antonio caught him and the revolver was taken away. He heard his brother tell Diadato get out, previous to the shooting, but he didn't see Barbuto strike Diadato. Diadato seemed frightened when he had been and the witness said he told the corner that Diadato said he didn't give a damn about his death.

Expert on Revolvers.
Constantine George H. Stanton, who for fifteen years worked in Hopkins & Allen's arms factory, testified as an expert on revolvers, and stated that he thought the revolver had not been fired very much, not more than once or twice, because of its condition. He showed the chamber from which he thought the bullet had been discharged. He discussed with Attorney Smith the traces left after a revolver had been fired.

Another Grippo Brother.
Michael, the third of the Grippo brothers, was called, and testified that he was in the saloon on the afternoon of the shooting. He said he saw Diadato come in. About ten o'clock he heard Diadato and Barbuto talking, and thought they were joking. He saw his brother come from the bar and go towards the men and then the shot was fired. Barbuto said: "My Madonna! I must die! My poor children! I must die!"

John Marrasano was in the saloon when Barbuto came in about 10:10. He testified that Barbuto took hold of Diadato but paid little attention to him, but when they got near the closet he heard a shot. Barbuto wanted to go out, but Diadato told him to stay. He went out the front door, but returned when the police arrived. He did not hear Diadato say anything, but Barbuto said: "My poor wife! My poor children! You have killed me!"

Coroner Brown Testifies.

Coroner Franklin H. Brown testified that he commenced the investigation of the case on Friday 23. Diadato told him he had worked in New London several years and had known Barbuto in Italy, where he had a "safe" and a "gun." He came to this country three years ago. He told of having trouble with Barbuto over a woman, and that he had been in the saloon on the night of the shooting. He said he had been in the saloon on the night of the shooting, and that he had seen Barbuto and Diadato. He said he had been in the saloon on the night of the shooting, and that he had seen Barbuto and Diadato. He said he had been in the saloon on the night of the shooting, and that he had seen Barbuto and Diadato.

Coroner Brown was asked a few questions as to Barbuto being in the grocery store and said he never saw him in there. He said he never saw Barbuto at his home at 9 and he left at 5:30, saying he was sick and was going home. This was the last witness for the defense.

In rebuttal Dr. Lee was called and said that the wound on the back had been inflicted from the position Diadato described.

Coroner Brown was asked a few questions about the testimony before him and both sides rested at 5:35 o'clock. Court was adjourned until this morning at 9 o'clock, when the arguments will be made and the case will go to the jury in the afternoon. It is expected, and that the term of court will end.

NOW SOLD IN AMERICA

In Less Than Three Years, Parisian Sage, the Splendid Hair Tonic, Is Sold All Over America.

There is a reason for the phenomenal sale of Parisian Sage in the United States during the past three years. And the reason is plain to all: Parisian Sage does just what it is advertised to do.

Ask the Lee & Osgood Co. about it—they will tell you that they rigidly guarantee it to cure dandruff, stop falling hair or itching scalp in two weeks or money back.

There is no reason whatever why any man or woman should fail to take advantage of the above generous offer. But one thing that has made Parisian Sage so famous is its peculiar power to turn the harsh, unattractive hair that many women possess into luxuriant and radiant hair in a short time. Women of refinement the country over are using it and it never disappoints. Read this letter:

"I procured Parisian Sage and found that it was a great hair tonic and cleanser. I have used other preparations but Parisian Sage cleaned the scalp, stopped all irritation, made my hair fluffy, silky and led no trace of stickiness as some other hair tonics had." Mrs. Sarah Sawyerford, 1402 N. Washington, Owasco, Mich., June 22, 1909.

Sold by leading druggists everywhere and in Norwich by The Lee & Osgood Co. for 50 cents a large bottle. The girl with the Auburn hair is on every package, mail order filled in charges prepaid, by the American makers, Glensux Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Both Boys Saved.

Louis Boon, a leading merchant of Norwich, Mich., writes: "Three bottles of Foley's Honey and Catarrh cured my boy of a severe cough, and a neighbor's boy, who was so ill with a cold that the doctors gave him up, was cured by taking Foley's Honey and Catarrh. Nothing else is as safe and certain in results. The Lee & Osgood Co."
